WELCOME TO THE ISC SEATTLE LEARNING CENTER

Whether its education, training or career development, Integrated Support Command Seattle is committed to assisting all CG members with achieving their goals.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE TO USE THE LEARNING CENTER?

The Learning Center is open to all active duty, reserve, civilian employees, auxiliaries & dependents for training, education, and career development. When college classes are not in session, the facility is available for independent study.

Since its inception in December 2004 the ISC Seattle Learning Center has served the educational needs of thousands of CG members and their families.

EDUCATION: A network of education professionals is available to assist CG members with career and education goals including: USCG administrators, counselors, teachers, and college advisors. All services are available by appointment at pier 36. Our voluntary Education Services assist members with Tuition Assistance, degree planning and MGIB as well as offering classes on base through City University.

CITY UNIVERSITY classes are offered in the Learning Center during lunch throughout the year. Members don't have to work their way through traffic & they have the opportunity to take classes right here at the pier with their shipmates.
